

Pharmacy Technician

The Pharmacy Technician program at Pima Medical Institute will give you the tools to enter the healthcare world as a professional in a retail pharmacy, hospital, home healthcare setting, mail order or pharmaceutical wholesalers industry.

Pharmacy technicians are the key communication liaison between medical professionals, doctors, pharmacists and patients and may assist pharmacists in providing medications and healthcare products to patients.

Once you graduate from Pima Medical Institute's Pharmacy Technician program, you can sit for an exam to become a certified pharmacy technician. As a certified pharmacy technician, you'll receive and verify prescriptions and prepare patient medication.

Trusted. Respected. Preferred.

Pharmacy Technician Course Outline

What You Will Learn

Pima Medical Institute's Pharmacy Technician program will train you to prepare and provide medication and other health products to patients; mix intravenous solutions, count tablets and label bottles; receive electronic prescriptions from medical offices; handle computer order entry of prescriptions; receive written prescriptions and requests for patient refills; verify complete and accurate prescriptions; stock and inventory prescriptions and over-the-counter medications. In addition, students have the opportunity to earn IV Certification, which includes training on sterile product preparation and aseptic technique.

Job Outlook

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment of pharmacy technicians is projected to grow 4 percent from 2020 to 2030, slower than the average for all occupations. Increased demand for prescription medications will lead to more demand for pharmaceutical services.†

Employment

Pharmacy technicians will find employment in different job environments, such as hospitals, retail or mail order pharmacies, assisted-living facilities, nursing homes and in-home healthcare environments.

Certification

The nationally accredited and state-licensed program at Pima Medical Institute will prepare you for the National Pharmacy Technician Certification Examination (CPhT), administered by the Pharmacy Technician Certification Board. More states and employers are requiring certification as reliance on pharmacy technicians grows.
